Crony Capitalism in America makes its debut at a significant time in American history. Significant not only because of the global war that looms ahead, but because the beloved members of the two party system are coming together to blatantly turn their backs on the American voter in order to serve their own monetary interests in the Middle East. Such a political alliance was a long time coming.

Hunter Lewis, author of the excellent Crony Capitalism in America: 2008-2012, ... points out that [Thomas] Piketty's charting of the ups and downs of income returns to the top 10% correlates with central-bank-induced bubbles. These bubbles, Lewis explains, constituted an explosion of crony capitalism as some rich people exploited all the new money, both on Wall Street and through connections with the government in Washington.

In reality it is the epicenter of American crony capitalism. Where Wall Street stops and Washington begins is impossible to say. This situation was not caused, as many suppose, by the Crash of 2008. Rather the Crash was caused by the longstanding Wall Street-Washington partnership. But the problem extends far beyond Wall Street to every corner of America.
