What is the difference between "zugleich" and "gleichzeitig"?

The difference is strictly between levels of formality/register. Present-day spoken German is more likely to use "gleichzeitig" rather than "zugleich" (even though it's longer!).

International coordination. The implementation of European and international social security agreements between Switzerland and some 40 countries requires close collaboration with Swiss and foreign institutions in order to simplify administrative procedures for insured persons.

Minimax - Halocarbon extinguishing systems

Multi-zone systems are very similar to single-zone systems, except that they use a common stock of extinguishing agent to protect all rooms. In the event of a fire, the fire detection and extinguishing control panel controls specific selector valves.
